

Monta Vista Track Team 2022
El Camino League Trials and Finals
Wednesday, April 27 and Friday, April 29, 2022

The ultimate is not to win, but to reach within the depths of your capabilities and to compete against yourself to the greatest extent possible. When you do that, you have dignity. You have pride. You can walk about with character and pride no matter in what place you finish. -Billy Mills

Location & Start

YOU are responsible for arranging your transportation to Cupertino High School, and you are responsible for being there on time! If you are driving, don't leave with an empty seat in your car (especially invite Freshmen and Sophomores who can't drive themselves).

Cupertino High School, 10100 Finch Avenue, Cupertino, California 95014.

Starting time for both Trials and Finals days is 3:00pm for field events, 4:00pm for track events. You will be released at 1:30pm on both days, this will give you plenty of time to get there. Everyone competing or helping is released at 1:30pm. You do not have to leave class if your event is not until later in the day, make your own arrangements depending upon your own academic and athletic requirements.

Entries

Entries for the meet will be finalized on Saturday. Hopefully we will have a final performance list posted on Sunday. There will also be a posting, probably before I have it up on our site, on Lynbrook: <http://lynbrooksports.prepcaltrack.com/ATHLETICS/TRACK/2022/2022.htm>

Meet Overview

League finals for the El Camino League: Wilcox, Santa Clara, Fremont, Mt. View, Saratoga and Cupertino—and Monta Vista! Top 5 finishers are all-league...top 16 Varsity times from El Camino League and De Anza League move on to the SCVAL Qualifier meet, Friday May 6 at Santa Clara. For many of us, Leagues will be the last race of the year. This is the meet to leave it all on the track! You have been training all year to be at your best, let's make a withdrawal on all your fitness deposits.

Something inside of me just said 'Hey, wait a minute, I want to beat him,' and I just took off.

-Steve Prefontaine

3 Things Your Coach Would Like You to Focus on at League Finals

1. Do not self-handicap: Team, we have talked again and again about sleep, hydration and diet! So let's give ourselves a chance to do our best. Get good sleep over the weekend and Monday and Tuesday nights; to get the most out of your sleep, plan ahead and get ahead of your homework starting NOW. Eat healthy, with plenty of vegetables and protein, starting NOW. Hydrate—start carrying around water bottles and drink two bottles per day (you don't have to overhydrate—just drink consistently and regularly) starting NOW! You have trained all season, let's get the most out of finals!
2. Effort Counts Twice: Effort counts both when you work to improve your skill and capability—during practice—and also when you put your most into getting results—in our case, during competition. This is the same model for developing any skill you will use in your life—you put effort into developing the skill, and effort into using the skill to get results. So today, decide what you want to put into your race. It's all you. This is a good day to find out how much is inside you and what you did for yourself all season long. You cannot control where you place in your race, because you can't control the other athletes; but you are the one who determines how hard you try.
3. Be a solid part of the track community: When you are done with your race or your event, cheer on your teammates don't just leave or sit around. Thank volunteers and coaches that are working the meet—whomever is judging your event, when you are done, walk up to each of them and say thank you and shake their hand. For example, if you are high jumping, when you are done thank the judge and both people who are lifting the bar. This means more than you realize. Throwers, walk out and say thanks to the people holding the tape all day, and jumpers thank the folks raking the sand all afternoon. Then, go watch an event, cheer on your teammates, when you see an impressive performance by anyone on any team go say so. Your actions MATTER. You can't control where you place in your event; you can control how gracious you are before and afterwards, towards your teammates, your competitors, and towards everyone around you.

Notes

- Eat a good breakfast and a good lunch – pre-race, I like a banana, toast, and some protein such as peanut or almond butter, some honey for fun, oatmeal. A lot of people like oatmeal with some raisins and nuts. A good healthy lunch is needed too—turkey and avocado sandwich, PB&J, sushi, rice and chicken, whatever works for you. Try something that worked for you earlier this season. Whatever you eat, write your menu down; afterwards, if you have a good race, you might want to repeat this routine. If you don't run very well, maybe this menu is something to think about changing
- Bring a snack/lunch for after your race. A mix of protein and carbs are good, such as a peanut butter and honey sandwich, or a turkey sandwich, and a piece of fruit. The MV Boosters will also have the concession stand open.
- Check the weather report! It looks like it will be warm and dry. Dry clothes for after the race.

Don't bother just to be better than your contemporaries or predecessors. Try to be better than yourself. --William Faulkner

Don't forget to pack

- Your school issued uniform.
- Running shoes, spikes, extra spikes, spike wrench or throwing shoes. Check and change your spikes the night before!
- Warm up shoes and socks.

- Vaseline to lubricate spikes before screwing them into shoes.
- Extra clothing as needed—sweats, dry clothes, even underwear and socks in case of cold, rainy, or hot weather.
- Water and water bottle!!! And food.
- Sunscreen, hat, sunglasses.
- Garbage bags are good to keep your gear dry or can be emergency rain gear.
- Toilet paper (invitational meets always run out).
- Any medications you need.
- Hair ties.
- Homework for any downtime.
- $$$$ (emergencies, food...)
